How do you think the parking meters are working out?

Before you say, just parking how easy it is to get a parking place where the meters are located. Before they were installed you could hardly park your car in the business section, now you can almost always find one.

I don't know how many others have caught, but I was the first quarter customer the City had. I parked, knowing I must pay a nickel in; but when I went into the drug store, I became involved in some discussion and forgot. Consequently, a red tag and a quarter for the City.

There's a lot of subdivision going in the Community and a lot more planned. There would be an unbelievable number of homes built if materials were available. Some day it will get going.

We understand there is some activity to acquire the City Fathers with the opinion of a section of the public about a City Manager. We are quite sure it is a large majority of the taxpayers in favor of it.

Wells and Lyons Plan On A Modern Hotel Project

More than ever this season, the fact has been pressed home that Belle Glades most needed service is a modern hotel. Hundreds of people have sought hospice here, but had to go elsewhere because there were no hotel accommodations. Several promotional plans for a hotel have been publicized, but as yet no visible steps have been taken to proceed with such public accommodation projects.

However, this week, Arthur Wells and Wendell Lyons, well known business men, well able to carry out the project, announced that they now have architects plans for a hotel which will meet a potential demand for high type hotel accommodations, if all plans work out as they hope they will.

The new hotel if erected will occupy the former Holloway home and office site, now used by Wells and Lyons for their business location, which is on the south main road.

Palm Beach County Is Heading For A New Produce Record

R. U. Mounts, county farm agent, has sent out from his office in West Palm Beach, 100 farm subsidy cards for the year 1946, and same must be fully signed and deposited at his office by March 31 if farmers expect to participate in the program benefits. The program includes planting of pasture lands to be planted to summer legumes.

Natural cover crops or planting of Egyptian wheat is no longer included in the subsidy program. While Egyptian wheat is recognized as the best cover crop to be grown in the Glades, owing to objections from Texas and Oklahoma, the Federal Department of Agriculture has changed its position through all growing seasons.

Agent Mounts also states that the newly discovered tomato rust, came on suddenly in the county, and is a serious menace. But by prompt care of seed bed and applications of insecticides and fungicide killing applications, that it can be killed and prevented from ravaging the fields.

Mounts is also expected to predict that no frosts or torrent rains are experienced, with the spring crop, that the shipping record of 1944-45 will be broken. He also expects to see in his office lead to believe that at least 25 to 30 per cent of the vegetables moved out of the county are going by truck, which is a high record.

Georgia Men To Locate Laundry Here

Shelly Connell has sold a tract of land on Avenue E, to three business men from Albany, Ga., who have plans for erecting and equipping a modern steam laundry and dry cleaning plant. They plan to enter into this line of business on a large scale, serving the entire Glades area, and will operate a number of collecting and delivery trucks. The prospect of the new industry is now arranging for their building materials for their sizeable plant.

Cherry Enrolls At Auburn College

Joe Cherry, Jr., Horace Harris and George Wedgeworth, who made a trip to Auburn, University at Auburn, Ala., the past week end, were very much pleased with their inspection trip and the hospitality extended. As a result of the visit, Cherry matriculated as a student at Auburn, and will leave for that school in September. It is understood that Wedgeworth may be heading for the University of Michigan for his collegiate work.

Scientist Forfeited Much Ship War

While a week and guest of Dr. and Mrs. R. V. Allison, at the experimental station, a number of local people called to pay their respects and became acquainted with the noted soil expert, Dr. Selman A. Waksman, of Rutgers College in New Jersey.

He is well known in his company and heard the discussion of soil, moulds and chemical combinations was almost equal to the standard. The good doctor has made soil his life work and he stands high in the ranks of that particular profession.

In his conversation, Dr. Waksman made it plain that he had been there before the war, and that at that time he made up his mind that war was inevitable, and that Germany was then the most powerful nation in the world, and that it was a matter of time before it would attack and conquer.

While in Germany he found the country had extensive much made much deposits, from which much was being shipped to the States in immense quantities, largely for use in racing stables for absorbent use.

He said he did not like the States to be too dependent on Europe for materials, in case of war, so he studied on the boat, over what he could find in the States to protect such shortages, and he hit on the muck of Maine and the Canadian states.

Knowing the locations, but having no ship, he had to tell the lands people what he wanted, he finally got it across, and the result was that companies developed the fields, which produced all the need of muck required in the States, and now none of that commodity comes in export trade from Europe to the States.

Cleveland, Feb. 21 (FNS)—A unique plan to help combat the national housing shortage by encouraging employee home building as rapidly as materials are available, was announced by the United States Sugar Corporation, which has arranged to guarantee resale of employees' homes, within the next five years without danger of loss to the owner.

The company has arranged with the subsidiary, Cleveland Realty Corporation, to purchase the homes at actual cost.

Farmers Watch Anxiously During Full Moon Period

National Conference Accepts Invitation of Glades Distributors

These farmers down here are watching the moon these days, at least until it gets past the full stage, for that is when those telling and killing frosts usually occur. If one more full moon period passes, then the fear from frosts will be passed.

Prices as given on local commodities in the Inter-State Market News, of Wednesday, are as follows: Beans, 40.248 bushels; Lima, 1600 bushels; cabbage, 1.604.580 bushels; celery, 6.810 crates; potatoes, 2.008 sacks; tomatoes, 19.811 crates.

While packing houses did not seem to be overly busy the past week, car shipments show a movement of 505 cars, bringing the season total up to 5,769, good spring crop. The company in the past, largely consigned its packing products to the government, but this spring, most of its output will go through other channels. Beans will be about the only packing done this spring, but next year, plans are made for a general canning of vegetables sealable in quantity.

Farmers Not Protected In Labor Contracts

Farming here in the Glades is not without its drawbacks and not the least of the headaches is the labor question and their wages.

This week the Farm Labor Extension office received copies of the new labor contracts which the Government expects farmers to sign, if they want to secure any of the Bahamian and Jamaican laborers, for the spring crop season.

After reading over the old and new contracts, Manager Jack Royals, at once spotted several changes, which did not read so good for the local employers of such labor, and as a result, a meeting of growers was called for on Thursday.

Ladies' Night At Community Church A Big Success

Ladies night at the Community Methodist Church, under the auspices of the Laymen's club, proved to be a huge success, not only from the attendance and supper angles, but from the entertainment standpoint as well. Sixty or more guests partook of the sumptuous and appetizing pot-luck meal, and if that was not luck, wonder what a banquet would be like?

The special guests of the evening were Rev. and Mrs. Clark Cotton, and son, the former pastor of the First Methodist Church of West Palm Beach. This noted minister is much in demand as a social club speaker, and it was with pleasing alacrity that he listened to his message of the hour, which he entitled "Conditions of the World Today."

His remarks were none too encouraging, for he held that civilization was heading to a dark, unless trends were checked and stopped. He held that the only way to do this was for all to return to the Christian religion of our forefathers, and we again live by the Golden Rule.

Most of the members of a very enjoyable nature were presented by Miss Elinor Kidder and Mrs. Lorenzo, piano and organ, and violin duet, and Mrs. Laurie Holt, with Miss Kidder as accompanist, and a piano number by Miss Kidder.

The Glades section should have and is entitled to a vocational school, according to Principal Frank O. Hobson of the Belle Glades schools, and presented the subject to the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce at their meeting, Monday night.

Mr. Hobson pressed the question, stating that there were many veterans who would rather work with tools than with books, that there were many industrial training, and that at least a hundred or more boys and men could be found willing to enter and work on contract in industrial training, and that there was plenty of available work equipment available to equip a school with the finest of modern machinery and plant, and that a school could be obtained at a nominal cost.

The Chamber concurred in the suggestion of the school, master, and with other organizations that are working on the plan, and it was decided to begin such a school, which will materialize in the very near future. Such a school would be of great value to the Glades community.

The Chamber directors again strongly endorsed the City Manager project for the City.

As to the building permit, the commission granted same, excepting plans be changed so as to build a concrete building instead of the frame as planned.

The commission also reasoned that particular lot, believing that the city needed a bit of rezoning for business purposes, thus permitting the petitioners to carry out their plan for the cocktail bar and lounge.

Basket Ball Season Is Coming To A Close

Basket ball fans of Palm Beach county had the pleasure of seeing the teams of three schools in action, when Belle Glade, Lakeview and West Palm Beach turned in double victories over Clewiston, Boynton and Lake Worth.

Clewiston were the losers on the Belle Glade floor, and the sugar city lads came as the favorites over the Rams, but that victory was denied them by the fast and excellent game the Cooke boys staged. That last quarter was a beauty, for the Rams wanted a win and so did Clewiston, the game ending 25 to 14. Our local girls were a bit slow in getting started and solving the visitor's defense, but finally came to life and at the end piled up 24 points to the visitors' 16.

After Boynton's fast team had defeated the Rams on Wednesday night, they met up with the Pahokee Blue Devils, and the latter took their measure by a score of 40 to 35. The Pahokee girls outlasted the Beach girls, winning 47 to 17. Palm Beach scores were: Palm Beach, 17, Lake Worth, 14; Girls, Palm Beach 36, Lake Worth 24.

The Indian River conference basketball tournament will start this week end, when the Pahokee, Belle Glade and Okeechobee will not have entrants, although Belle Glade will be in the South Florida conference.

Saturday night conference games resulted as follows: Delray 38, Belle Glade 18; Pahokee 29, Redlands 23; Ft. Pierce 42, Lake Worth 20.

GI University Of The Glades Is Proposed By Committee To Insure Full Participation

Policemen Are Good Swappers

The present police headquarters at the city hall these days, are all to inadequate to house the police force, but when that new jail annex is built, there is going to be more space surroundings, with storage space and lockers.

One of the great subjects under discussion in the police ranks is the progress and speed of Chief Parnell's first venture in farming, namely raising egg plant. Ray Whitlock was the man that sold him the idea, and the chief, who has been smiling, and says "Wait and see, I will be in the black yet." That bunch of officers are the biggest traders and swappers you ever met up with, but Officer Carlton is the king of them all. That man could take a piece of tin and turn it into a gold dollar.

Rardin Chosen Delegate

At the session of the State County Commissioners' convention in Jacksonville, Paul Rardin, Glades district commissioner, was chosen to attend the national convention to be held in Cincinnati, next June. Baker Home Near Completion Artisans are now busy making the final touches on the fine new residence of J. K. Baker, on one of the Glades roads. It will not be long before the Bakers will be occupying their fine home, which is spacious and most attractive on the interior.

In addition to the home, J. K. has also provided himself with a modern freezing plant, and cold storage room, which, with the new home, sets him up for entertaining purposes.

House Damaged By Fire

The city fire department was called out around 3 o'clock Friday morning, for a fire in the Northmore section, in a home owned by Mrs. Allen Greer, of Lake Worth, which was occupied by John Tabiti. The interior of the house was badly damaged but both house and contents were covered by insurance. The blaze is thought to have caught either from a cigarette or from a short circuit on a reading lamp. A chair near the table was burned down to the ground.

The department was also called to Jimmie's store on West avenue A, where a stove had a flare up.

Fishermen Get Narrow Call In Lake Storm

Stuart Donaldson, who recently came from Perryopolis, Pennsylvania with his wife to make their home in South Bay, and Neal Murphy, whose family are winter visitors, learned the hard way what a tough little northwestern can stir up on Lake Okeechobee last week.

The two men motored out to the north end of Krome Island, Tuesday afternoon, and embarked on a little fishing expedition with a row boat and outboard motor. The day was sunny and the lake like a mirror.

They headed out into the lake and tied up at the light beacon about three-quarters of a mile off the northern end of the island. After a time they noticed a cloud making up and discussed getting under way for shore, but the fish were biting so well they were loath to cut short their sport. They kept staying a little longer and longer but finally the clouds became so threatening that they decided to ride it out right there, confidently expecting to get a good haul.

Committee Studying Plan To Foster Education Of Returned Vets

A plan is being evolved to encourage GIs to take advantage of the on-the-job training program of the GI Bill of Rights and to direct the educational features as it applies to those who find it unwise or impractical to attend college.

"An excellent and practical idea has been planned course of education under competent supervision for the boys who did their bit," said one former parolee. "An excellent way to get all the boys on the federal payroll with some ready cash because they deserve it," said one less fortunate veteran.

The idea was reported to the Committee, the story is as follows:

"There is no disposition to do other than advise and assist all young veterans who will, and who are qualified, to take advantage of the opportunity to go to college or other educational institution.

"On-the-job training is provided for all veterans who have served ninety days or more and who possess a discharge other than dishonorable, for a period of one year plus additional month for each month's service, not to exceed 48 months total. Single persons without dependents receive $60 per month subsistence, while married persons will receive up to $90 a month.

The organization, firm or individual under whom the training will be taken must be okayed by the Department of Education, as well as the course of training, and "satisfactory progress" must be indicated to the Veterans Administration monthly, or the pay check will be stopped.

"There is no area possessing more qualified scientists in all phases of agriculture and all of its complementary subjects than the Glades; there is a competent trained professional man who is willing to devote some time to training veterans in practically any field of endeavor. Some organization, such as the Veterans Service Committee, can very well set up an agency which will consult with any veteran and work out a proper course of study pertinent to his particular job."

Dr. John Wilson Cited

Dr. John Wilson, returned from his tour of duty in Asia, now again at the Experimental station, on Monday, received from the government's coveted and prized citation for his service in health prevention work. He developed a method and system for malaria in the tropical zone, made a diet through the aerial distribution of DDT, in camps and forests of the war area.

Observation and Comment

These numerous and pestiferous strikes which have been tying up labor and production, is having a bad effect on the rural way of life. The more the laborers are feeling the effects, for demands for our products are not as heavy as when everyone was working at good wages. Winter vegetables are strictly a luxury in the northland, and not purchased with a free hand at the prices that are being asked for them. Again, we feel effects, for farm machinery production concerns are unable to provide the latest and best orders that have received for much needed farm machinery of every type. Our boys down here used their old machinery till it was nearly unusable, and had hopes of getting the new post-war machines by this time, and now find they have to cling to them a bit longer in order to farm.

If someone would get wise and set up a bus tourist system

When a Strike Becomes Rebellion

The British government intends to assume ownership and management of all British coal mines during the next six months. One American newspaper describes the action as "Britain's most significant advance on the road to socialism during the first year of the labor regime."

In the comment that will arise over the elimination of coal as a private enterprise in England, the usual remarks will be heard that the men in the mines will never know the difference. True, the British coal miner will continue to get his pay, and for a time he may not be conscious of the change in his status. But eventually it will be borne home to him that he is an employee of government, in a land which is setting government up as a master instead of a servant.

The latter significant point should not be overlooked by those persons who continually point to government employees in this country as proof that merely working for government does not mean slavery. Our government is still the servant. As an employer, it is still a comparatively minor influence. However, add to its payroll every American coal miner, and the picture would become grimly different. Our government, too, would be well on the way to becoming a master.

What would happen under the new "labor" government in England if a John Lewis decided to break the coal mine operators unless his demands were met? What would happen if union organizers decided to take over management's job by enrolling former men into the union, not hesitating to resort to strike violence to gain their objective. In England this would be none other than rebellion. The violence would be against government rather than a recalcitrant private employer. It would be put down ruthlessly.

Fortunately in our country the coal industry remains in private hands. The miners can strike. They can exploit their grievances without being cast in the role of fighting against government. They can do this only so long as the independence of private industry is retained.

Every Family Interested

Just a short decade ago, the political and economic problems of the citizens of every state were primarily local instead of national. Today the problems most deeply affecting every citizen are national rather than local. One of the greatest national problems in which every family is interested, is our future military program.

Just as we have allowed centralized government to absorb many of the functions of local government, so are we asked to favor one central authority for our Army, Navy and Air Forces, thus eliminating the individuality of each and the inspiration of competition.

Germany was the greatest exponent of a centralized military organization. Italy was an advocate of the same idea. France, at different times, followed similar policies.

This war demonstrated that the United States can have a unified command of the various branches of its armed services in a national emergency, without having a military dictator in times of peace. There is need for haste in perfecting our military machine, but granting peacetime centralized military control over the three branches of our armed services must have the fullest consideration.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy H. Struve Hensel said, in the New York Times of November 22, 1945, "National security . . . is too large to be encompassed in any single organization. Even its military aspects are too diverse and too huge to be rolled into one great mass or to be effectively controlled by some super-holding company."

If we retain our place as a nation of democratic ideals under the flag of a republic, we need less, and more centralized government, and we must maintain military preparedness within the framework of our ideals of freedom.

Faith Justified

Transcontinental air mail service has passed its twenty-fifth anniversary. Since September, 1920, when the first trip was completed, 4,000,000 passengers have been carried over the original transcontinental air trail, along with 125,000,000 pounds of mail and 177,600,000 pounds of cargo.

One of the pioneer steps in the development of the present day air transport industry was the inauguration of air express. The Railway Express Agency was one of the first to show faith in the new form of transport. It created an air express division and encouraged the expansion of shipment by air. Its thousands of off-airline offices are as ready to accept air express parcels as they are any other kind. Such packages are moved by the fastest method to the nearest air terminal and transferred to planes.

But the growth of the past will be dwarfed by what is to come in the future. The entire history of express is based on the principle of taking the property of shippers into personal custody for delivery to the desired destination by the fastest possible means. Progressive flexibility in response to change is characteristic of the private undertaking. As the transcontinental airlines look back with satisfaction over twenty-five years of aviation history, air express looks back with them. Its faith has been justified.

"Cheap" Money, High Prices

It is a common occurrence to hear persons recoil with a muttered curse at the "outrageous" prices they are asked to pay for scores of necessities and luxuries. Generally their minds run belligerently back to the luckless producer. The most grotesque spectacle of all is the way various groups will charge each other with being highbinders, while the housewife thinks they are all robbers. The farmer curses the merchant; the merchant curses the farmer; and the consumer curses them both—when he is playing the role of consumer. If he also plays the role of family breadwinner, he, too, is a robber of sort during office or work hours. This apparently is the normal behavior of a people in a land being visited by inflation.

No one ever curses our annual Federal deficit of tens of billions when he looks at the high price of a desired article, but it is at the heart of our price problems. Nor, so far as is ascertainable, does anyone ever rise up and damn the Federal government for its spendthrift ways when he is hit between the eyes with rising prices.

As long as the government continues to function on borrowed money, just so long will we continue to have alleged "price gougers" in every walk of life. Borrowed money has meant "cheap" money and high prices.

BITTING WRITES

ties of the area have been scarteled only deep enough to reveal it as one of the largest unrelated areas of great fertility on the fact of the globe. "For more than a century the Everglades has intrigued the explorer and scientist. Finally, the key that unlocked its potentialities was found. It was water control, as opposed to drainage, plus chemical amendments of the soils to correct the absence of minor, but essential, elements necessary to activate its great natural fertility." Biting discusses the miracles which applied research, have with ramie and essential oil performed in transforming the Everglades from a wilderness to an area "whose potentialities are limited only by the imagination."

"With full development of the Everglades, this nation should never again be forced on short rations of this basic commodity. This security could be obtained by utilizing perhaps no more than 30 per cent of the Glades lands available to intensive agriculture." Biting says.

He outlines such developments as the new $7,000,000 root starch industry, the purebred and commercial cattle herds, the progress being made which applied research, have with ramie and essential oil

Discoverer of Streptomycin, Wonder Drug, Visits The Glades

Dr. Selman A. Waksman of Rutgers University, accompanied by his wife, returned to Belle Glade with Dr. Allison after making the principal address at the State Soil Science Society's annual meeting at Gainesville.

A visit to the meeting at Gainesville from Alabama made the trip in order to thank Dr. Waksman for the gift of his little daughter. Local Birmingham medicines had given up hope and she was running a fever of better than 100. A neighbor noticing an article about streptomycin in a magazine called it to the attention of the distraught parents. The physician after talking to Dr. Waksman, talked to a doctor in Philadelphia who had successfully used the new medicine and the Merck Laboratories arranged to get a bit of the medicine to Birmingham. The medicine was administered by the local doctor according to instructions of the Philadelphia physician and today the little girl is well and happy. Some urinary infection was the diagnosis of the little girl's trouble.

Dr. Waksman has returned to his native haunts of Rutgers University but Mrs. Waksman will remain in the Glades as the guest of the Allison for a few days.

The Waksmans are potential citizens of the Glades with its immitable climate and nearness to the busy winter playground of the world.

New Parking Lot

The vacant lot at the rear of the Fear's hotel, owned by Judge George Tedder, is being graded and rocked and will be open as a car parking lot.

New Highways In Use

Work has been progressing in a satisfactory manner on the cross country farm road leading from the Bollers canal at Okeelanta eastward. While not completed it is now passable as same has been graded and rocked. It is now partially serving some 9000 acres of rich crop lands. The road is about two miles in length.

The Duda farm road, which was constructed by that farm at its own costs, and reaches north from the farm to Road 25 east of Belle Glade, is also proving a fine outlet in trucking the products from this modern farm.

Elliott Has No Opposition

B. Elliott, of Palokoe, who served his first term in the State Legislature last year, will have no opposition for a re-nomination for a second term, as no opponent filed against him, according to report from Tallahassee. "B" is the Glades member of the Palm Beach county delegation in the legislature.

WELLS AND LYONS

(Continued from page one) street, but some details are to be worked out with property owners in the Holloway addition over reservations. The architects estimate for the cost of the hotel is $200,000.

The plans as drawn by W. F. Brown, architect, call for an auditorium, fire and hurricane proof three story building with a park set back from the highway. The structure will be 193 and 55 feet in dimension, the narrow, or length of the building facing westward, and front and side drives.

The plans call for a lobby 19 by 37 feet, a dining room with a seating capacity of 100 guests. Kitchen, lavatories, private offices, and a front porch 8 by 37 feet in front.

The second and third floors will be used for guest rooms. Hallways will run down the two upper floors, and arranged on each side will be 61 guest rooms 12 by 15 feet in dimension, including bath, eight being corner rooms, with plenty of light and air. The entire building will have the latest in lighting, air and heating facilities, carpeted floors, etc.

Messrs. Lyons and Wells, if able to adjust their business affairs, plan to start work as soon as possible, in the hope of completing the new hotel in time for next fall season. They have not as yet decided whether the work will be a contract job, or done under their own supervision by day workers.

It is also reported that Mr. Wells is considering improving the site of the hotel, which is now occupied by a service station, by erecting a building for a modern restaurant and apartment building.

G. I. UNIVERSITY

as expert aid is as available anywhere, prescribes a list of studies, some optional, some required, and a great majority of which are common to most of the students. The Veterans Administration will, after okaying the set-up, feel confident that veterans are receiving substantial advantage in the chosen trade or profession, and the veteran will be guided advantageously financially and mentally.

"Ph.D.s as are numerous in the Glades as on a University campus; technical and professional men of outstanding abilities are here or in nearby communities, and an outstanding job may be accomplished."

It is estimated that there are several hundred veterans in the community who will be benefited by such a plan, some of whom now are not acquainted with the method of accomplishing the desired results.

The Veterans Service Committee is headed by Prof. H. L. Speer, Red Mount's assistant. Luther Jones and John Pickett as members of the County-wide Committee, George Menard and J. S. Chastain of the Palokoe Legion post, the Veterans Representative in Palokoe and Belle Glade, Prof. J. R. Davidson, Mike Murphy and a member to be chosen from South Bay or Lake Harbor. Herb Beck and Thad Whidden are legal advisors of the Committee, and the Red Cross and Employment Service representatives are also members.

night to discuss the new contract.

One of the features of the new contract calls for a definite weekly wage contract, regardless of crop or harvesting conditions, or whether or not the field laborers work. Another feature omitted is the "Act of God" clause, but one which makes the employees liable for full wage payments, even if flood, wind or other disaster wipes out the crops.

A check shows that out of the 18,000 negro farm workers now employed in the Glades, 500 of them are of the imported type, working mostly on specialty jobs, either by prevailing wage rate, piece work or by the day.

SUGAR CORPORATION

less four-tenths of one percent per month during the next five years, if the employee for any reason should sever his connection with the United States Sugar Corporation in that period and desires to sell.

Purpose of the plan, Clarence R. Bittling, president of the sugar company, explained, is to provide employees with the financial assurance that their investment will be safeguarded and to assist them to combat the housing shortage by building their own homes.

The plan is available to those employees who have a salary of $250 or more per month and are recommended for the plan by their supervisor. Valuation of the property should not exceed 25 times the individual's monthly salary.

The Clewiston Realty Corporation will take no part in arranging for construction of the plan, but will be the owner against financial loss. To secure the agreement, the owner will submit his plans and cost estimates to the Realty Corporation.

The owner need not sell his home to the Clewiston Realty Corporation, but if he desires to do so, he should make his request to that company within 30 days after severing his connection with the United States Sugar Corporation, and the Realty Corporation will then have 60 days in which to complete the purchase of the home.

It is hoped that the plan will be instrumental in removing any doubts in employees' minds about the future and thereby encourage them to build their own homes now, Bittling said.

New Building Occupants

R. M. Hendry, Jr., who operates a market on West Avenue A states that when his new building on Northwest Second street is ready for occupancy, one unit will be used by himself, and the other unit by Frank Whitehurst, of Miami, who will open a wholesale drug business.

Mr. Hendry himself will engage in the electric refrigerator business, including home and factory freezing units. There are four apartments on the second floor. He will continue his market in his present location.

Commission Session Brief

The city commission was shy two members Wednesday night, so little business was transacted. Building permits were granted to L. Shuler for a $3,000 dwelling in the new Sunset addition and a permit for a $3,500 home in the Walker-Evans addition, to Lester Clark.

First Carrot Shipment

The first shipment of carrots from the Bennett farm on West Avenue shipped this week, and the harvest season will now be pushed. The roots are very fine in size and flavor according to marketmen.

For the benefit of the Belle Glade Catholic Church fund, a dance will be held at the City Hall Saturday night, March 2. An orchestra composed of "Pop" Lord, "Little Doe" VanLandingham, and Neal dePampolis will furnish the music.

Polly Jenkins and her musical pals, well known radio, vaudeville and screen performers, will be here Wednesday at the High School Auditorium, at 8 p.m. The senior class is sponsoring this show and will receive a percentage of the receipts for the benefit of their graduation expenses.

This troupe covers all classes of songs from hill-billy and western to popular and classical selections. Polly Jenkins plays the piano and sings, and Texas Rose, the junior member of the show, has the finest yodeling voice and plays a bass viol twice her own size. Uncle Dad, musician and humorist, with a back ground of 40 years of show work, supplies the comedy.

Lions Asked To Aid In United Civic Club Plan

General Program Chairman, Henry O. Earwood, presented a subject to the Lions club, which had been discussed at the City Recreational Commission's meeting, for a question to be given club thought and attention.

That was that Belle Glade, as a growing city, should plan and prepare now for the provision of a City Center for recreation and entertainment, providing a suitable building in which all types of meetings could be held.

F. E. C. Train Derailed

The Florida East Coast fresh vegetable train had seven cars derailed about half a mile west of the South Bay depot at 12:35 a. m. Wednesday morning. The train was traveling at a speed of 15 miles per hour at the time of the accident, cause of which is unknown.

Thirty rails were torn from their places and traffic was held up approximately six hours until an emergency crew could lay a supplementary track around the derailed cars and permit the regular trains to pass.

An investigation is under way as to the cause of the accident and a wrecker has been summoned to replace the derailed cars on the track. Fortunately no one was injured.

There will be all kinds of Scout contests and games and

Baptist Revival Closes

The special revival services at the First Baptist Church, came to a close with the sessions of last Sunday, when Evangelist Montgomery presented three telling addresses. The mass meeting in the afternoon was such as to fill the church to overflowing. Dr. Montgomery in his series of revival sermons proved that he was an earnest, and effective speaker. A number of accessions were the result of the services and baptismal services are planned by Pastor Enlow for those coming into church relation.

During this time many of his chairs have been literally whittled away and had to be replaced. He even imported cedar wood and supplied the inveterate whittlers with this aromatic soft wood on which to sharpen their cunning with the knife but to no avail. The chairs kept on disintegrating before his eyes. Wood has become so difficult to get the last few years that he had had

New South Bay Firms

Several new businesses are being opened in South Bay either immediately or in the near future.

Henderson Brothers, comprised of Sam E. and John Ervin Henderson, two local boys, are opening a sand and rock business. This fills a long felt need as the lack of building materials has handicapped the building program here. The boys have purchased a 10-wheel truck with a 7-yard capacity for delivery of materials. To date the materials have been used as fast as they can be hauled. A little later a rock pile will be built up for rapid delivery.

MEN WHO KNOW HOW to Run a Railroad

Over 430 members of the Florida East Coast Railway's personnel, or more than 15 per cent of its normal working force, have a record of 25 years or more continuous service with this organization. Several hundred additional have been with the East Coast in excess of 20 years.

The heads of its various departments, the crews that run its trains, the men who maintain its tracks, roadbeds, signal systems and equipment, are seasoned veterans in their line of work. They have that valuable "know-how" that comes only with long years of experience.

This accounts to a large extent for the Florida East Coast Railway's excellent wartime performance, and for its remarkable safety record of not a single passenger fatality, due to train collision or derailment, for over fifteen years.

The men and women of the East Coast like their work. They enjoy living in Florida, are your fellow-citizens and neighbors. They have seen the East Coast of Florida grow and are anxious to render the kind of efficient, friendly service that will aid in the continued progress and development of this section.

Complete Huge Stack At New Sugar Plant

The Weber Chimney Company of Chicago, Ill., has completed the 196 foot 6 inch chimney for the power house of the Sugar Mill for the Okelanta Development Company. Work was begun in December and the chimney finished, ready for painting February 8.

E. L. Baker of Great Forks, N. D., was construction engineer in charge and assisted by a trained crew consisting of his brother, his son, and several others who have comprised his crew for many years. Mr. Baker and his crew have built Weber chimneys in many of the states of the United States and in Hawaii. Weber chimneys built in Tokyo in the early 30's are reported all standing in spite of the continued bombing of the city during the war. Some of these chimneys are the largest in the world up to 600 feet in height.

The chimney at Okelanta is of reinforced concrete with an octagonal base and a round shaft. The diameter at the base is 10 feet 6 inches and at the top is 8 feet 6 inches. The chimney is built to stand a hurricane wind and has a play of several inches away in the wind. The wall is 12 inches thick and an air space extends 70 feet above ground.

Some little difficulty was experienced at the start of construction in securing a firm rock base for so heavy a structure. Rock layers immediately below the surface musk were found to be too soft and layer after layer of rock and shell had to be stripped before solid rock was reached some 26 feet below the surface. A stream running water which almost amounted to an underground river was struck between two relative soft layers of rock. This had to be blocked off by solid cement as water from the underground springs kept bubbling up to hinder construction until five feet of solid cement finally sealed it off.

The construction of the base having been completed and the shaft started, construction moved faster. At the beginning five feet of completed shaft was a good day's work. As the chimney grew and began to taper the work progressed at the rate of 10 feet per day.

Praises Florida Growers

New York, Feb. 21 (FNS)—Continued evidence that American's pioneers acquired a bonanza when they purchased Florida from Spain for $5,000,000, was offered by the state's agriculturalists, who last year turned out produce valued at approximately $325,000,000. This industry alone gave a return on the original investment at the rate of 65 to 1. This was pointed out by Harvey A. Baum, head of A. & P. stores, who also stated that A. & P. stores organization purchased $30,000,000 worth of Florida food products in 1945, mostly fresh fruit and vegetables.

Praising Florida growers for their mass-production efficiency, Baum cited particularly the improvement shown in the quality in citrus pack and the steady improvement in vegetables packaging, all of which is helping materially to increase the market for Florida products.

Given High Honor

Winter Park, Feb. 21 (FNS)—Mrs. Alfred G. Kay, Palm Beach botanist and leader in conservation work, has been elected a member of the executive committee of the Florida Audubon Society to fill the unexpired term of the late Judge T. P. Warlow, according to Dr. A. J. Hanna, president of the society.

Mrs. Kay, a life member of the Florida Audubon Society, edited with her husband in 1933 Henry Nehrling's "Plant World in Florida" and maintains botanical experimental farms in Florida and Guatemala. She will attend the annual meeting of the Florida Audubon Society to be held in the Annie Russell Theater March 2.

Delray Defeats Rams

A fine basket ball game was played at the gym Tuesday night, when the fast traveling Seahawks from Delray matched skill and brawn with Cooke's Golden Rams. The visitors proved too much for our Rams in the latter portion of the contest, which up to that time had been a rather close game with the Rams leading. Delray had two specialists who threw in basket scores from the center of the area and under the basket. Bearden was removed for too many fouls, and this cut down the locals effective play. The final score was 29 to 20. The preliminary game was between Coach Cooke's "Angels" and "Bo" Pugh's "Cherubs," the local team, but the school lasses had the advantage of superior training and playing skill, and the score ended 37 to 7.

State Head Of Auxiliary Feted

The Belle Glade American Legion Auxiliary were guests of the Pahokee Auxiliary Tuesday evening in a joint meeting held at the Pahokee Lions club. The meeting was opened with the advancing of the colors by the Sargeants of Arms, Mrs. Edna Pickett, of Pahokee and Mrs. Bryant McLendon, of Belle Glade.

Mrs. Otto Blech, president of the Pahokee unit, introduced the speakers of the evening. Mrs. J. B. Kirkpatrick of Eastis, department president and Mrs. A. J. Ryan, of Dania, fifth district president.

The Pahokee unit presented each guest with a corsage of chrysanthemums, and members of the Belle Glade Auxiliary and Pahokee Auxiliary presented the speakers with gifts.

The speakers discussed Auxiliary work and stressed the need and desire for new members. The membership goal for this year is 10,000, which is fast being achieved.

It was announced that the district conference will meet in

Fl. Lauderdale April 6th and 7th, at which time fifth district officers will be elected. The Department Conference will be held in West Palm Beach on May 15, 16, 17 and 18. THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

HENRY: "I've heard that something serious is afoot lately... that alcoholics are really sick people. It was news to me. Do you agree with that statement, Judge?"
OLD JUDGE: "Yes, it's true, Henry. It's no notion of mine... it's a statement made by scientists who have studied the subject."
HENRY: "What did they find out, Judge?"
OLD JUDGE: "Well, as a result of their medical research, they found out that approximately 85% of the people who drink drink sensibly, 5% do so unwisely, at times."

Included in that 5% is the small percentage known as alcoholics."
HENRY: "But why are they called sick people?"
OLD JUDGE: "Because it has been discovered that, in many cases, excessive drinking is a symptom of some physical or emotional maladjustment... not the cause of it."
HENRY: "Now I understand it, Judge. I am glad to hear of the modern approach to this problem and that so much is really being done to help these folks."
